

- Our ensembles present 12 concerts per year. Some concerts highlight talented soloists playing concertos on their instrument.
- The Discovery Orchestra and Youth Orchestra present Free Concerts for Youth for local school children serving 8,000 public school children.
- We have 168 musicians from 150 families. Our musicians come from all over Sonoma County as well as Novato, Napa, Angwin and Ukiah. Our youngest musician is 7 and our oldest musician is 19.
- We give away over $4,000 in financial aid each year to enable students to participate in the ensembles.
- We honor our young leaders with scholarships for private lessons.
- The Youth Orchestra has performed at Carnegie Hall and toured Europe. The Young People's Chamber Orchestra has participated in the Junior Bach Festival.

Proceeds from this event will benefit all four youth ensembles.

Your contribution assists members of the four Santa Rosa Symphony Youth Ensembles (SRSYE) to share their gift of music with others. Through these programs musicians from across Sonoma County, ranging in age from 7 to 19, collaborate with one another and receive training from professional musicians. This prepares them to perform for over 6000 elementary school children in free concerts, put on a 7 concert youth ensemble series, and participate in other community performance partnerships each year. Many of these young musicians continue to play in college and even go on to perform professionally.

The four Santa Rosa Youth Ensembles are:

The Preparatory Orchestra, a full orchestra for beginning students between ages 7 and 13.

The Discovery Orchestra, a full orchestra for intermediate to advanced students.

The Young People's Chamber Orchestra, a small ensemble focusing on advanced string technique and repertoire.

The Youth Orchestra is an advanced college preparatory and pre-professional training full orchestra.

The mission of the Santa Rosa Symphony (SRS) education department is to continue to transmit the profound legacy of classical music. Today the SRS is widely recognized for one of the most comprehensive music education programs in California.
